Dear Reciprocal Services' MBE:

On behalf of the Board of Directors and staff of the Georgia Minority Supplier Development Council (GMSDC), Inc., I extend a warm welcome to you as a "Reciprocal Services" MBE and thank you for your continued commitment to MBEs in Georgia. As one of thirty-seven (37) regional affiliates of the National Minority Supplier Development Council, Inc., GMSDC is committed to assisting certified Reciprocal Services' MBE develop and connect within the Georgia region. We offer a "New MBE Orientation" every month and encourage you or your representative to attend. Please visit the "Events & Program" tab on our new website or contact our MBE Services Department (Florena@gmsdc.org).

The new website contains a complete listing of activities, events, and other news worthy information. Our programs are informative while enhancing relationships between MBEs and corporate buyers and executives. I know that your firm will be represented at these events.

Per NMSDC guidelines, the Reciprocal Services certification ends on your home council's certification expiration date. As you know the process for amending or updating your firm's data, starts with your home council and your MBISYS profile. Annually, applicants reapply for reciprocal services certification; although you may have previously received Reciprocal Services from GMSDC, reciprocal services is not a recertification. Please do not use the GMSDC recertification application for Reciprocal Services. As you know, a recertification can only be done with your home council. Remember, GMSDC does not prorate our Reciprocal Services' fees. Thus, if you are within 90 days of recertifying with your home council, please recertify first. Immediately after you "receive" your new home council certificate, then apply for GMSDC Reciprocal Services by filling out the Reciprocal Services application and attaching your "new" certificate. The requirements, along with the application for Reciprocal Services are on the new website under "MBE Certification" tab.

If there is ever a need for special assistance or if you need an original copy of your Reciprocal Services certificate, please feel free to contact GMSDC's MBE Services (Florena@gmsdc.org) or Certifications Office (certify@gmsdc.org), respectively.

We welcome you!

Sincerely,

Stacey Key,
President & Chief Executive Officer
